

Saville Consulting International Accreditation

Overview

Our International Accreditation Course qualifies you to use our aptitude tests and Wave® personality questionnaires in just five days. We give you full psychometric training on how to administer, interpret and give feedback on our ability tests and personality questionnaires. This enables you to use these tools professionally within the workplace.

Key Learning Objectives:

- Gain immediate access to over 90 individual Saville Consulting Aptitude Tests.
- Gain immediate access to the Saville Consulting Wave personality questionnaires – Professional Styles and Focus Styles – and the full range of output reports available from these questionnaires.
- Run professional supervised testing sessions.
- Interpret ability tests and provide quality feedback.
- Profile the job requirements and choose suitable assessments.
- Predict job success and performance.
- Integrate assessments with wider processes.
- Evaluate ability tests in terms of their reliability and validity.
- Demonstrate the business value of psychometric tests.
- Ensure fair and lawful selection processes.
- Apply the Saville Consulting Wave Styles model integrating behaviors, motivation, talent, competency potential and culture fit.
- Interpret and give high-quality feedback on Saville Consulting Wave Styles.
- Delve deeper with unique features – Motive-Talent 'splits', Normative-Ipsative 'splits' and Facet Ranges.
- Apply practical skills to work through case studies in selection, development and organizational analysis.
- Evaluate personality questionnaires in terms of their reliability and validity.

Who is this course for?

For anyone wishing to apply psychometrics at their organization or private practice and gain the international accreditation. This course provides a thorough grounding how to use and apply aptitude tests and personality questionnaire.

More than 5 delegates?

If you have 5 or more delegates wishing to join, it may be desirable to run an in-house course, with potential cost saving and more targeted approach. If this option is right for you, please contact us to discuss your needs.
